

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILLING OUT MARRIED COUPLE WILL WITH NO CHILDREN

Fill in your name in each blank marked with an asterisk (*) as Maker.
Fill in the name of your spouse.

SECTION SECOND:

Initial the space in front of "All to my spouse..." if you want all of your estate to go to your spouse except for anything you specify in Sections 'SIXTH" and "ELEVENTH".

Initial the next line and fill in who you want your estate to go to if your spouse dies before you do or you both die in a common disaster. Sample distribution provisions are provided for you to fill in this section.

SECTION THIRD:

Fill in the names of the people you want to be your Personal Representative. In most cases, your spouse would be your first choice. This is the person who collects your assets, pays your debts and distributes your assets.

SECTION FIFTH:

Enter the age at which you want someone who is currently a minor to receive any part of your estate. The minimum legal age is eighteen. Prior to any minor reaching the age you select, the personal representative has the authority to use the child's inheritance for that child's health, education and welfare.

SECTION NINTH:

Initial what you want done with your remains after you death.

SECTION ELVENETH:

Use this to give cash bequests or for other specific things you want done upon your death.

Your Will is now ready to be signed witnessed and notarized. You sign on page 4 and on the Affidavit page. The witnesses also sign on page 4 and the Affidavit page. The notary signs on the Affidavit page. You, the witnesses and the notary must all be present when everyone signs.
